Exploring products by application

When it comes to engineered timber, Havwoods is not only renowned for its extensive flooring options but also for its commitment to innovation and quality.

But did you know that majority of our products can be used beyond the floor? Plus, we also have a large range of products specifically designed for applications on walls, ceilings and cabinetry.

To help our clients navigate this versatile selection, Havwoods has introduced symbols that indicate the suitable applications for each product range.

From Wood Book to Website

Discovering the right Havwoods product for your specific application is now even easier through our website. From the homepage, you can scroll down or navigate directly to the 'Our Products' menu to select the application you're interested in. This feature makes exploring our diverse range of products straightforward and user-friendly.

Scan the QR code to read more about the different ways our products can be used.

Introducing symbols for easy identification

To simplify the selection process and ensure our clients can easily find the most suitable products for their projects, Havwoods has introduced a clear and easy-to-understand symbol system:

Floors

This icon indicates that the product is ideal for flooring applications, tested for durability and wear underfoot.

Walls

This symbol identifies products suitable for use on vertical surfaces, ideal for creating dramatic accents or a continuous flow from the floor.

Ceilings

This icon represents products fit for use on ceilings. Whether used on the ceiling alone or in continuation, it can make a striking impact on the design.

Cabinetry

This symbol helps to find timber specifically designed for use in cabinetry, offering the necessary specifications to handle the unique demands of this type of construction.

Some of our product ranges display more than one symbol, showcasing their adaptability for multiple applications. Look for these symbols throughout the Wood Book to understand the full versatility of our offerings.

Explore the widths of V Collection with our range of wide boards.

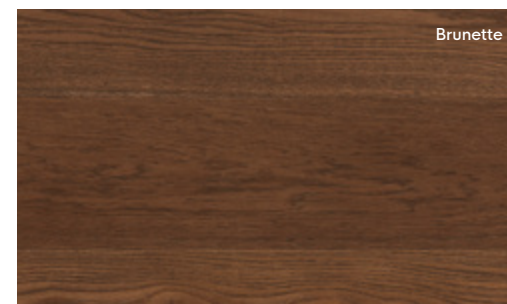

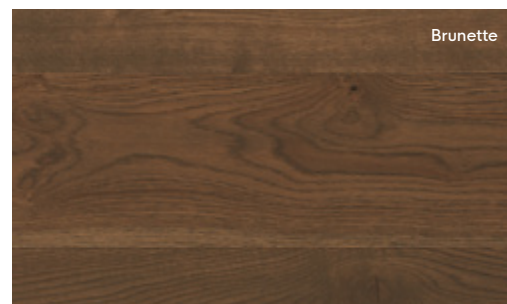

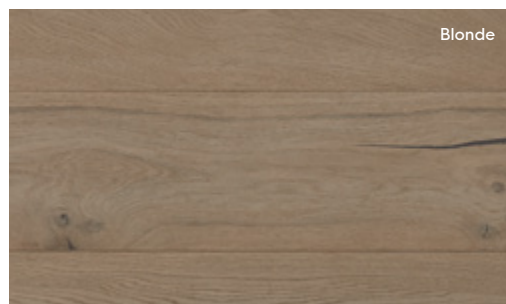

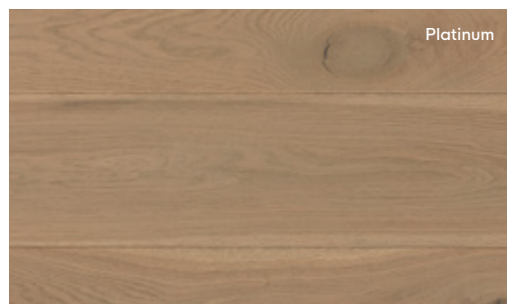

When used in smaller spaces, a wider plank can make a space appear larger through the reduction in timber joins, creating a smoother and calmer effect.

Using wide planks means there are less visible joins from plank to plank, than that which you would see with installing narrower planks.

The effect can subconsciously create a less cluttered visual, allowing the feeling of space to permeate.

Used in large spaces, wide planks accentuate the space, delivering an atmosphere of grandeur, often seen in contemporary design. This can be especially beneficial for creating impactful entryways, both in residential and commercial applications.

A workspace radiating urban charm

A multi-office space emanating metropolitan elegance, 555 Collins Street is an extension of its iconic location in Melbourne CBD. Studio 103 were engaged by Charter Hall to design the lift lobby and multiple office spec spaces spanning across two expansive levels.

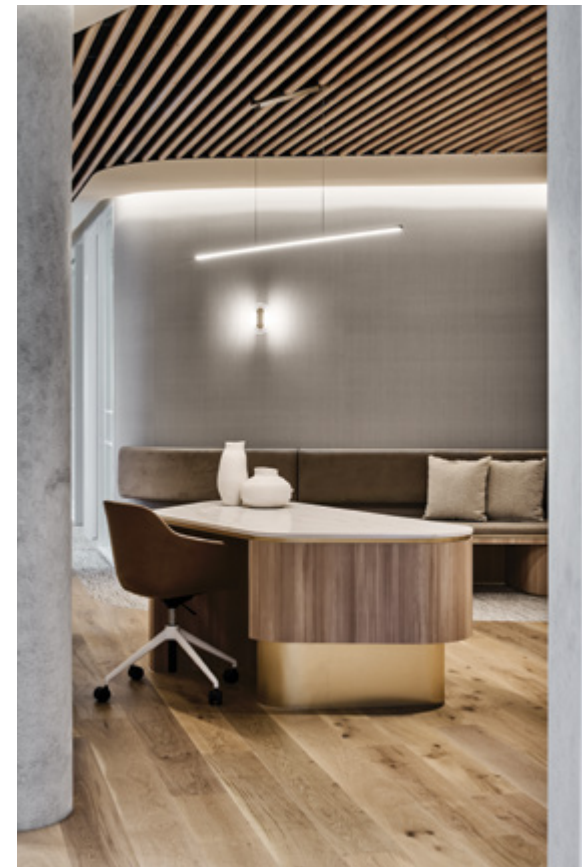

A key consideration in this project was for each office space to embody its own unique character, while still retaining a cohesive aesthetic throughout. This was achieved through the thematic use of timber in each design. From the battening adorning the ceilings, to the Havwoods flooring, the use of timber serves as a guiding element throughout the environment.

Each Havwoods product was chosen based on technical and design requirements. It needed to withstand foot traffic, provide suitable access to power and data, and offer acoustic properties for noise reduction. In terms of design, smokey grey and blonde timber tones were selected to complement each unique space. As well as, matt lacquered finishes selected to enhance the tactile experience of timber in the design.

Each suite in 555 Collins Street boasts its own unique theme, expressed through a combination of materials, colours and textures. The result, a visually harmonious workspace that nurtures the well-being and productivity of its occupants, creating inspiring and practical environments for Melbourne's future workforce.

Escape into a world of European allure

Versailles Antique

HW1391

In the heart of Sydney's vibrant Potts Point, Tamsin Johnson Interiors has orchestrated a masterpiece of opulent luxury. A vision of texture and history, this apartment is infused with sumptuous materials and unexpected hues.

Within this visual delight, one encounters a sensory journey reminiscent of European parlours and early 19th-century hotels. The living room, with its bespoke wooden fireplace and a curated collection of vintage treasures stands as the centrepiece of the home both intriguing and inviting.

The Haywoods versailles parquetry flooring pairs perfectly with the rich decoration, grounding the space beautifully. From the auburn timber tones, the smoky yellow stone accents, to the velvet-clad banquettes, each detail works together to create a delightful synergy.

This Potts Point Apartment transcends mere dwelling to a sanctuary with the power to transport, inspire, and evoke the senses. With each element carefully curated and thoughtfully arranged, this apartment defies convention and embraces the timeless allure of European design.

Home away from home at Pillow Talk HQ

Blanco 13

HW3674

Pillow Talk, a leading homewares retailer, sought to establish a unified hub for their operations. Enter Hutchinson Builders, tasked to bring this vision to life. Sprawling over 22,415m², this mixed-use complex seamlessly combines office spaces, studio facilities, and a distribution warehouse.

The client's brief was for the front-of-house public spaces to offer a high level of quality and finish. These areas include key boardrooms, reception, and waiting areas where clients get their first impressions of the Pillow Talk brand.

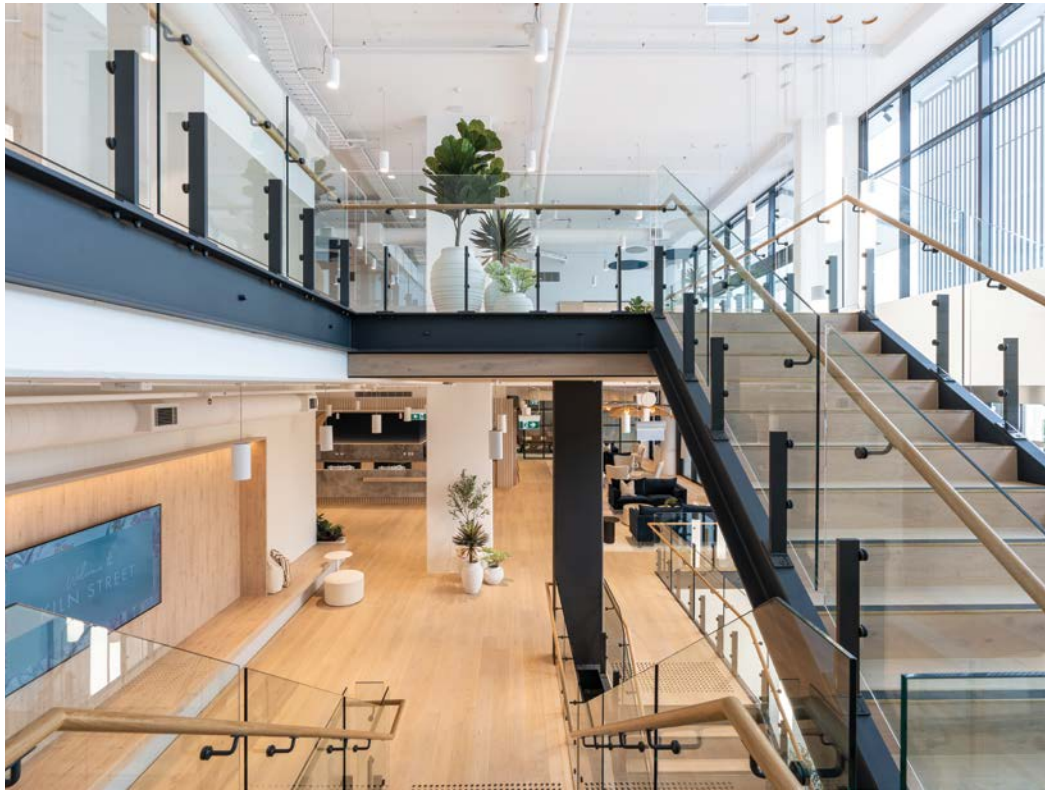

An outstanding display of craftsmanship can be found on the soffit lining of the internal staircases, constructed using a spider crane due to the complexity of the installation.

The underside features the platinum tones of Blanco 13, which was selected as a key product because of its sustainability certification, plus being the perfect tone to complement adjacent finishes.

The floor plan with large open spaces, presented a challenge for conventional timber floors due to expansion and contraction requirements. However, Havwoods Blanco 13 was perfect in this situation with its engineered design.

The synergy between high-end bespoke finishes, such as polished concrete, timber flooring, and various joinery elements has combined to create a space where functionality meets finesse, and every detail contributes to a harmonious and productive workspace.
