VODA PLUMBINGWARE

At the heart of Voda is a team that is passionate about plumbingware.

With products that have been specifically designed for New Zealand environments and our unique water pressures, our local design and engineering team take the best of international trends, then combine this inspiration with our flair to create premium products for your kitchen, bathroom and laundry.

The Watermark certification is the main plumbing product quality scheme in Australasia. Whilst it is mandatory in Australia, In New Zealand this is a voluntary process. We are proud to say that from the beginning Voda Plumbingware has voluntarily been a part of this scheme and strive to create Watermark approved products.

Because of this, many of our products meet the Watermark standard, and our processes and labels refer to the AS/NZS 3718 standard which includes the AS/NZS 4020 standard for the “Testing of products for use in contact with drinking water”.

What this means is that products that meet these standards must not release certain metals (such as lead) beyond minute quantities, and that the limits for lead content align with the requirements as detailed in the Drinking-Water Standards for New Zealand 2005 (Revised 2008) publication by the Ministry of Health.

Only a handful of tapware companies operating in New Zealand can use the Watermark symbol. When you buy a Voda product that has the Watermark symbol you will know you are buying the healthiest tapware available to New Zealanders.

To be sure that you are choosing tapware that meets these requirements, look for products in this catalogue with the  symbol.
