Why Choose MEGANITE Solid Surface Shower Bases?

Meganite is an advanced, non-porous solid surface material known for its superior performance and aesthetic versatility. It is engineered to create a seamless, hygienic, and highly durable surface, making it the perfect choice for a modern shower base.

Seamless Integration

Meganite allows for a flush, seamless installation, creating a minimalist and sophisticated look that is easy to clean and maintain.

Exceptional Durability

Resistant to stains, scratches, and impact, Meganite stands up to the rigours of daily use without chipping or cracking. Its colour and pattern run all the way through, so minor scratches can be easily buffed out, maintaining its flawless appearance for years.

Medical Grade Applications

Meganite Acrymed is a medical-grade solid surface engineered for superior hygiene and durability in healthcare environments. Its antimicrobial technology helps inhibit bacterial growth, making it ideal for use in hospitals, clinics, and laboratories. The non-porous surface is easy to clean and maintain, ensuring long-term safety and performance in sterile settings.

Greenguard Certified

Certified for low chemical emissions.

Superior Safety

The surface provides a natural slip resistance, and our shower bases are designed with a low-profile entry for easy access and enhanced safety.

Hygienic

The non-porous surface of Meganite prevents the growth of mould, mildew, and bacteria, making it incredibly easy to clean and maintain. There are no grout lines to discolour or harbour germs, ensuring a pristine and healthy environment.

Luxurious Feel

Unlike cold stone or tile, Meganite has a unique, warm touch, providing a comfortable and inviting experience underfoot.

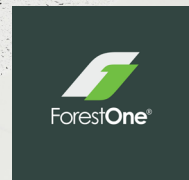

Customisable Design

Available in a wide range of colours and finishes. Our ability to custom produce specified wall lips, screen lips and waste outlet types and locations sets us apart from other inferior, inflexible products on the market.
